

VOICE INTEGRATED VOIP SYSTEM

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

5 An integrated VoIP unified message processing system includes a voice platform that processes data in native VoIP format. There is no use of hardware telephone interface cards (TICs) or software transcoding to transform data to PCM or other formats. Cost reductions are achieved by the elimination of expensive dedicated hardware and scalability is achieved by obviating the need for software transcoding.

SF 1133697 v1